AppleShare 2.0: Can't Administrate With Print Server Running

This article last reviewed: 30 March 1988

The AppleShare Administrator and the AppleShare Print Server are both concurrent applications, meaning they run at the same time. Since the AppleShare File Server supports only one concurrent application at a time, you won't be able to administer the AppleShare File Server with the AppleShare Print Server running concurrently.

To perform administrative functions, quit the AppleShare Print Server and start up the AppleShare Administrator program from the "Server" menu.
