TV950 Emulation For Macintosh

This article last reviewed: 30 March 1989

An ADDS Viewpoint 60, TV950 emulator is available from Pacer Software. The product is called pcLINK. It performs key sequences, sends ASCII text between Prime and VAX, and has a Prime 50-series and DEC VAX interconnect package. It also serves as a true gateway to minis and mainframes and has command file capabilities. For more information, search under: "Pacer".
