- For technical accuracy.

TOPIC -----

In addition to the ways System 6 allowed use of multiple applications, System 7 provides two more methods.

DISCUSSION -----

To switch from one application to another:

- Click one of the application's windows. (If the application you want is the Finder, click anywhere on the desktop.)
- Select an application from the Application menu (right end of the menu bar).

To start additional applications:

- Drag a document icon onto the icon of the application (new feature).
 - Select the application from the Apple menu (new feature).
 - Double-click the application's icon (or its alias).
 - Select the application and choose Open from the File menu in the Finder.
