TOPIC -----

Using MacWrite II version 1.1, when I create text in TrueType Times above the 127 point size, and have the strike-through feature, the strike-through line appears above the text. When I try to edit the text, the "I" beam doesn't go where I click.

Is this a problem with MacWrite or TrueType?

DISCUSSION -----

MacWrite II 1.1v1 and earlier versions do not support TrueType when using font sizes larger than 127 point. Claris is working on a new version of MacWrite II that will solve this problem.
