- To include information on locating Kanji resellers.

TOPIC -----

If I'm using Kanji Talk and a Japanese word processing package, such as Kanji Word, do I need to make any special modifications to print to a LaserWriter?

DISCUSSION -----

You'll need an Apple LaserWriter IINTX-J, a Kanji-compatible LaserWriter, which is available in Japan as well as a limited but growing number of resellers in the United States. You can call 1-800-882-8856 to find a reseller in your area.

You can also use Kanji TrueType or ATM-J with any QuickDraw printer, such as a StyleWriter or Personal LaserWriter LS.
